

S

“Sake-Bomb”

Join us in a screening of the yet-to-be-released film

Wednesday, November 6th at 7:30 pm

Location: UTC 108, CSULB

Admission: Free

*This event is limited to the university community.
Limited seating. First come, first served.*

*Please bring and show your campus ID at the theater entrance.***

Q & A session afterward with director Junya Sakino and writer Jeff Mizushima,--both are CSULB graduates!

SYNOPSIS

Sebastian Morita, video star wannabe, has a LOT of rough edges. Like the rest of us, he craves esteem from the people around him, but there's just too much in the way of gettin' respect--racism, inter-Asian one-upsmanship, FOBs, and...maybe his own attitude. SAKE-BOMB doesn't just confront Asian stereotypes, it blasts them at you through a laugh cannon. You decide if you want to give Sebastian a smack in the face (the line forms to the right) ... or root for him.

*This event may qualify for extra credit--ask a relevant instructor

*Contact person: Dr. Sam Coleman sam.coleman@csulb.edu

Co-sponsors: Departments of Asian and Asian American Studies, Film & Electronic Arts, & Multicultural Center

Follow SAKEBOMB on Twitter <https://twitter.com/sakebombmovie> and Facebook <https://www.facebook.com/sakebombmovie>