

DEPARTMENT OF AFRICANA STUDIES
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, LONG BEACH

AFRS Study Group—Spring 2014

Students who are currently taking courses within the Africana Studies Department are invited to participate in an ongoing, on-campus study group. This study group is intended to serve several purposes:

- (1) it is meant to improve upon the student's present study habits by reinforcing the importance of studying within a group setting;
- (2) it is meant to increase the student's network of support by fostering social relationships with their peers; and
- (3) it is intended to reaffirm our serious commitment to student success by increasing our presence and support in their practice of learning, outside of the classroom.

It is our hope that students will use this group as a means to connect with their peers and develop on-going study groups that extend beyond this particular group. Dates for the month of March are as follows:

Tuesday, March 18th:                      1:00 pm to 2:30 pm

All study groups will take place in the Africana Studies Department Conference Room located on the third floor of the Psychology Building (Room 310-A)
