Introduction to Native American People

Section: 1 Code: 10135 Spring 2014
M & W 2-3:15 LA5-355 D2 GE Credit

An introduction to American Indian Studies, this D2 G.E. course meets on Monday and Wednesday from 2:00 to 3:15 and utilizes the Annual CSULB Pow Wow as a learning resource. American Indian guest lecturers share the meaning and significance of their culture during the semester. Service Learning is an option for students who elect to volunteer with Native American Cultural Organizations or the 44th Annual Pow Wow.

Become a Volunteer for CSULB's Largest and Oldest Student Sponsored Event

This Spring Semester over 6,000 people will come to CSULB to enjoy the oldest continuous student sponsored event at CSULB -- the 44th Annual CSULB Pow Wow. Meet new people, learn about the deeper meaning of American Indian Culture and get involved at CSULB.

Note: Student volunteer positions for the CSULB Pow Wow are generally limited to students enrolled in American Indian Studies courses and/or students who are actively involved with the American Indian Student Council or CSULB AISES.*
