

BORDER CROSSINGS:

Lived Experiences of Migration, Detention, Deportation & Asylum on the US-Mexico Border

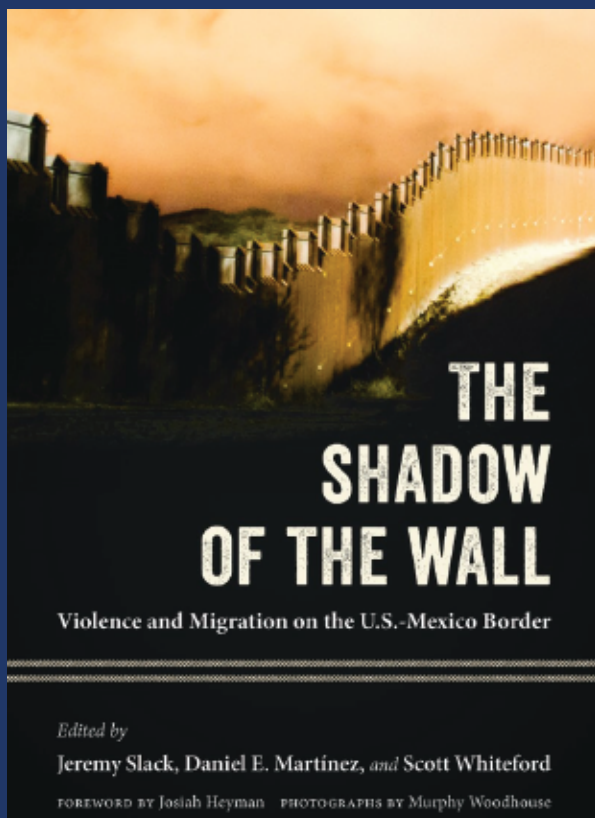

A Scholarly Intersections & CLA Understanding Borders Initiative Event

Wednesday, April 4, 2018

4PM-5PM, MM100

Light Reception to Follow

Please join us for a lecture with Jeremy Slack, University of Texas, El Paso (UTEP).

Dr. Slack has over a decade of experience conducting ethnographic research along the length of the US-Mexico border. He will discuss his newly published book "The Shadow of the Wall" and his work with detained and deported migrants, DACA, and recent successful asylum cases. Dr. Slack's research and activism has recently been showcased on 60 minutes & CBS News.

Sponsoring Faculty:

Lily House-Peters, Department of Geography

Claudia Lopez, Department of Sociology

Brett Mizelle, Department of History & American Studies Program

Teresa Puente, Journalism & Mass Communication

Caitlin Fouratt, International Studies & Global Migration Studies Program

K.T. Shaver, Department of Chicano & Latino Studies