

LANGUAGE LEARNER ANXIETY

MAY 1, 2014
IN AS-384

Lecture by:
DR. TAGHREED M. AL-SARAJ,
Post Doctorate fellow at University of California, Berkeley

The topic of FLA is relevant to many CLA scholars interested in the stakes of language teaching and learning leading to global and professional enhancement. Dr. Al-Saraj's "One Size Does NOT Fit All When it Comes to Foreign Language Anxiety" presentation will discuss language acquisition by shedding light on the practices that both instructors and students can apply to better the language learning environment. Dr. Al-Saraj's talk will be followed by a workshop offering stimulating strategies and techniques relevant to language learning in California and America. In addition to audiences in the CLA, this lecture and workshop will attract faculty and students from other colleges, in particular, the College of Education.

Presented by:

The Department of Romance, German, Russian Literatures and Languages | The Graziadio Center for Italian Studies |
The Departments of History, Linguistics and Anthropology | Global Studies Institute | The International Studies Program